

Welsh Pain Society Annual Scientific Meeting

Friday 8th October

8.50	Welcome and Introduction
9.00-9.45	Professor Toby Newton Supported Self-Management of Chronic Pain: How Things Should Really Work.
9.45-10.35	Dr Amira Guirguis The opioid crisis, How did the UK dodge the bullet?
10.35-10.45	Break
10.45-11.30	Professor Irene Tracey Using Advanced Neuroimaging to Understand Acute and Chronic Pain in Humans.
11.30-12.20	Dr Nicholas Levy The international consensus statement for prevention of postoperative opioid related harm.
12.20-12.30	Break
12.30-1.15	Dr Ffion John Innovation and the service user's experience of holistic pain management approaches and moving to digital platforms.
1.15-1.20	Break
1.20-1.50	Welsh Pain Society AGM (Separate Zoom link for members only)

The event will be held on Zoom. Tickets via Eventbrite <https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/welsh-pain-society-virtual-annual-scientific-meeting-2021-tickets-164296905467?aff=ebdssbeac>

4 RCoA CPD points for attendance.

The presenters have very generously offered their time without charge, they have requested donations to nominated charities. Details available on the Welsh Pain Society website .

Posters

We would like to invite the submission of posters highlighting the important, relevant work in the field of pain which is happening in Wales. These will be reviewed by a panel of consultants and those selected will be displayed via the Welsh Pain Society website and included as part of the wider Annual Scientific Meeting.

Format: One single A4 sized Powerpoint slide or single page in Word

Please email submissions by 5pm on 4th October to:

charmaine.john@wales.nhs.uk or alec.machenry@wales.nhs.uk

The event will be chaired by Dr Oomman, Clinical lead in Pain Services in HDUHB, Dr Jansen Consultant in Pain medicine HDUHB and people who are living with persistent pain

GIG
CYMRU
NHS
WALES

Bwrdd Iechyd Prifysgol
Hywel Dda
University Health Board

